

Barrel 135
135 W 3rd Street

Black and White Photography

Barrel 135 artist for the month of August is Kelli McCloskey, bringing her black and white photography. There will also be music by Veer (uptown music students) on Friday, August 4th, 2017 from 9pm-11pm, and also Saturday, August 5th, 2017 with Qwister, from 9pm until 11pm.

Downtown Poppy
6 W. 4th Street

Grand Opening Celebration

Friday, August 4th, 2017, 5pm-8pm. Grand Opening Celebration! Ribbon Cutting ceremony at 7. Shop will be full of new arrivals and two new lines of jewelry from Simply Sterling Designs and Jules Artwear.

Lycoming College Art Gallery
25 W. 4th Street

Slide Out of View, by Heather Ramsdale

Works by sculptor Heather Ramsdale evoke feelings about the passage of mind and body through space, emotions and time in her exhibit, "Slide Out of View," held in the Lycoming College Art Gallery from July 28 through Sept. The exhibit is free and open to the public on First Friday, August 4th, 2pm-9pm.

Detwiler Planetarium
Washington Blvd & Mulberry

Free Show

Friday, August 4th, 2017, 6:30pm & 7:15pm. This month, the audience is invited to take a closer look at solar eclipses, as well as the different causes and variations of solar eclipses. Attendees will also learn about the solar eclipse set to cross the continental United States on Aug. 21, and what the sky will look like in Williamsport during that event. Free tickets are available that evening starting at 5 p.m. outside the planetarium. Seating is first come, first seated.

Patinaz
38 W. Fourth Street

Pottery, Soaps and Vocals

Friday, August 4th, 2017, 5pm-8pm. Patinaz will have Linda Campbell showing off her fabulous works of pottery. Lisa from Mountain Meadows Soap will have a full selection of her handmade bath and body products. Tess Marshall from Clyde Frog will be in the house wowing us with her amazing voice and energy.

Converge Gallery
140 W. Fourth Street

It's Been a Bit, by Tyler Coey

Tyler Coey makes his return to Converge Gallery after a two-year hiatus from art with his aptly named show, "...It's Been a Bit..." This exhibition will be on display from Friday, July 21st, through Saturday, August 26th, 2017. Extended hours will be available during August's First Friday, from 6pm - 9pm.

The Genetti Taphouse
200 W. 4th Street

Water, by BEAL

This month at the Genetti Taphouse Gallery, BEAL celebrates their third year at the Genetti, with a group show of the League's members works entitled "Water". The exhibit starts with an opening reception on First Friday, August 4th, 2017 from 5pm-8pm and runs through Tuesday, October 3rd during normal Taphouse hours.

Woodlands Bank
213 W. 4th Street

Roy & Stacie's Wares

Friday, August 4th, 2017, 5pm-8pm. Visit Woodlands Bank to view work by Roy & Stacie's Wares. They are showcasing handcrafted jewelry, from silverware and beads.

Collegetown Gallery (CAC)
220 W 4th Street

An Exploration, by Schai Bilger

Friday, August 4th, 2017, 5pm-8pm. College Junior, Schai Bilger, enjoys experimenting with different mediums and ways of making art. For her the process of art and how it feels to create is empowering because it forces her to take a step back and approach problems in different ways. In her current exhibition, An Exploration, Schai learned the different methods of printing through the female form, textures, and places of the imagination.

The Cinema Center
300 W. 4th Street

Ballet

Turning Pointe School of Ballet will perform excerpts from classical ballets at the Cinema Center during Williamsport First Friday.

Peter Herdic House
407 W. 4th Street

Leslie James

The talented Leslie James will grace the walls of the Peter Herdic House again on Friday, August 4th, 2017, from 6pm-8pm. Leslie will be showing a new collection of works.

Gallery 425

425 Market Street

Hide & Seek, by James & Meredith Grimsley
Friday, August 4th, 2017, 6pm-9pm. By striking a balance between beauty and distortion, Meredith's work explores the endurance of the human spirit. She is fascinated by the imagery and behavior expressed in spiritualism, mysticism and superstition. James wants the viewer to be a voyeur – to be shown too much and sometimes not enough. The imagery is drawn from his past, the world around him, and the potential of souls.

Gustonian Gifts

357 Pine Street

Katie Ford and Carol Malcolm
Friday, August 4th, 2017, 6pm-9pm. Gustonian Gifts will be featuring Katie Ford with her sterling silver and gold jewelry, as well as Carol Malcolm who's been sewing for years with her American Girl Doll clothing and accessories.

First Saturday

Pine Street

First Saturday

Saturday, August 5th, 2017, 9am – 1pm, Williamsport will be celebrating First Saturday. We will be bringing downtown alive with artists, musicians, farmers and other organizations.

Avu Goldsmiths

246 E. Church Street

It's Our Anniversary!

Avu Goldsmiths is celebrating their One Year Anniversary Friday, August 4th, 2017 from 9:30am-6:30pm, and Saturday, August 5th, 2017 10am-3pm. They are located at the corner of Basin and E Church Streets. Avu will be featuring 20% off select items and a Free Gemstone with every purchase. Refreshments will be served. They are also having a Ribbon Cutting to commemorate their Anniversary at 4:30pm with the Chamber of Commerce and the SBDC.

4th Annual BTE Kayak Day

Susquehanna River

Saturday, August 5th, 10am-2pm. Rain date August 6th. Enjoy the beauty of the river and scenery on a relaxing kayak adventure from Lime Ridge to a private island on the Susquehanna. You can relax or explore the trails on the island prior to being treated to a cookout on the island. Meet at the parking lot behind JP's Subs (2598 Old Berwick Rd, Bloomsburg) at 10am with transportation provided to Susquehanna outdoor adventures' private launch in Lime Ridge. Proceeds benefit Bloomsburg Theatre Ensemble. For more information, call Cindy at 570-784-5530. BUY TICKETS at www.bte.org.