25 W. 4th Street

2018-19 Group Show by Art Faculty

Lycoming College Art Gallery is proud to present an exhibition of recent work featuring the College's studio art faculty, who are professional exhibiting artists, as well as exceptional educators. Coinciding with Williamsport's First Friday events, the show opens Nov. 2 with an artist reception from 5pm -7 pm, and a gallery talk beginning at 5:30 p.m. The gallery will remain open until 9 p.m. The exhibit runs through Jan. 5, 2019.

The Gallery at Penn College

1 College Avenue

American Epic by Jesse Shaw

In 2008, Shaw studied José Clemente Orozco's monumental mural, The Epic of American Civilization. Struck by the power of the work, he was inspired to begin his own interpretation of the American story. Shaw has been laboring on the American Epic print series for ten years, and at this time, 28 of the planned 50 hand-pulled linocut prints have been completed. His work is based in the narrative, satirical, political, and social commentary tradition of the graphic print. On display through December 12th. Open Friday's 11am – 5pm.

425 Market Street

Railroading by Oren B. Helbok

With his father, Helbok experienced some of the early tourist railroad era, going out to "chase trains" at age 2. Since age 6, Oren has made photographs, predominately steam and trains, from coast to coast, and in Canada and Great Britain. In recent years he has come to appreciate that "railroading" includes much more than just hardware, namely the landscapes and the people surrounding the trains. Oren writes stories to accompany his photos because, he believes, "sometimes a picture needs a thousand words." Opens Friday at 6pm.

Central PA Food Bank

3301 Wahoo Drive

Free Cooking Class!

Ready, Set, Cook! Is a senior cooking program presented by the Central PA Food Bank, a nonprofit organization whose mission is to fight hunger, improve lives, and strengthen communities. Learn about the nutritional benefits of each item as we cook & eat together to create a delicious and healthy meal every First Friday from 10:30 am to Noon. The cooking workshop is free and open to everyone in the public, but registration is required due to limited space by calling 570-321-8023. Don't miss this hands-on nutrition experience.

Factory Works Gallery

1307 Park Avenue, Studio 9-210

ΕΚΚΛΙΝΗΣΗ by Elusive Ayla

The exhibition, a collection of drawings, water color paintings, poetry and clothing designed by Elusive Ayla, whose work, much like her moniker, is often elusive. She hopes that the viewer carries something from the work into their lives, however, the form of that message is less important. She's interested in creating an ambiguous narrative that is both familiar and imaginative. We hope you'll join us, Friday, November 2, from 6pm to 9 pm, for the opening reception.

Otto Bookstore

107 W. 4th Street

Last Call by Paula Matter

November's 1st Friday brings local author, Paula Matter, to OTTO Bookstore for a signing and discussion of her now full-time vocation, writing. After publishing short pieces in various anthologies, she will be there with her first full length mystery, Last Call. We think our fellow mystery lovers will fall in love with her character, Maggie. Please stop in to meet and chat with Paula on November 2, 2018, 6pm-8pm.

Detwiler Planetarium

Lynn Science Center, Washington/Mulberry Planetary Show, Unseen Skies

This month's show will highlight unseen parts of our sky. Astronomers use more than visible light to study our sky, and by using other parts of the electromagnetic spectrum, ordinary objects in the sky can appear remarkable and offer astronomers new ways to learn about our universe. The shows begin at 6:30 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. and are free and open to the public. Free first come, first serve, tickets are available out-front starting at 5 p.m.

Community Arts Center

220 W. 4th Street

Artrageous!

Art, Music, Theater, Singing, Dancing, and Audience Interaction all on one stage. Imagine witnessing the creativity of an artist creating a masterpiece before your eyes in mere moments. Artrageous! takes you on a visual journey and a high energy ride of inspiration, creativity, and engagement. Ticket holders can stop in before the show for some hors-d'oeuvres and pre-show entertainment. This reception is hosted by Lycoming Arts. The free reception will begin at 6:30pm on Thursday, November 1st, with the show starting at 7:30pm

Community Arts Center

Arthaus Projects

140 W. 4th Street

Notes from the Underground

Internationally acclaimed Australian Pop painter Johnny Romeo is proud to announce the launch of his latest artistic project, NOTES FROM THE UNDERGROUND. Romeo has curated an exciting and forward-thinking art initiative that explores the idea of community, of how the influence of our artistic peers allows us to build creative spaces with distinct identities. The project features Romeo alongside hand-picked Pennsylvanian artists Kurt Herrmann, Mike Egan and Mark Loughney, Loughney, who in turn have each invited one artistic peer to take part who they believe is influential or captures the spirit of their community. Open for First Friday.

Peter Herdic House

407 W. 4th Street

Learn Chemistry with Jeremy Ramsey

Jeremy Ramsey, a chemist with a passion for clean water and teaching students how to "do chemistry" outside the traditional laboratory, spends every May in the Dominican Republic with a team of Lycoming College faculty and students helping to improve the quality of life for coffee farmers. During this time, he uses his camera to capture the beauty of the struggle that defines life in this remote place. A selection of his work will be on display at the Peter Herdic House during the month of November. Stop in for First Friday beginning at 5pm, or anytime during the month, to check out Jeremy's photos.
